

Welcome to my Immunisations and B12 update for health care support workers (HCA's)

This course is open to all health professionals providing an immunisations health service to the general public.

Katy Peters is a travel and immunisation specialist nurse and the Chair of the British Global travel health Association and the Founder and CEO of London vaccination clinic, overseeing 7 private nurse led travel clinics in central London, she is a member of the Faculty of Travel Medicine at the Royal Collage of Physicians and Surgeons, from where she was awarded the Cameron Lockie prize for excellence. Katy is a leader in the field of immunisations, vaccine hesitancy, travel health, a practice nurse and a previous aid worker for Medicines Sans Frontiers. Katy is a popular, engaging and motivational trainer.

This course will provide you with an inspiring and comprehensive revision of immunity and how vaccines work and equip you with the confidence and knowledge to fully support parents and individuals in their engagement with the national vaccination schedule.

Course content (shingles, pneumonia and influenza + B12)

- The immune system and how vaccines work
- Current issues in immunisation
- Any changes to vaccine recommendations or national policy
- Update on vaccine ordering, storage and administration
- B12 update
- Review of current practice, recent vaccine incidents and identification of areas for improvement
- Q&A session for problems encountered in practice

The training includes:

- Certification
- Resources and the full program provided on a data stick
- Free Access to The online Global vaccination summit webinars
- Access to the facebook group - supporting health professionals and parents in vaccine decisions.

Cost:

£125 per person for one day face to face training (6 - 7 hours)

£250 per person for online face to face conference call training (6 hours)